Data Entry Guide

Updating your Faculty Profile using eCV

Data you enter into eCV creates your faculty profile, centralizing information about your research, publications, awards, and so on. To keep your profile up to date, login to eCV periodically to fill in your latest information. The layout below shows how each section of your faculty profile relates to data you enter into eCV. On the left, under “Edit eCV Data,” a drop-down menu shows the options for adding your information. The more of the highlighted categories you can complete, the better; online visitors are interested in all your accomplishments. The sample faculty profile in the center uses color-coded numbers to illustrate where in eCV you go to update these individual sections.
